BUENOS AIRES CHARTER

We, young politicians and leaders of civil society, summoned from throughout the Americas, assemble at the Buenos Aires Forum to build a meeting point, a space of reflection and dialogue, in order to lay the foundations of a political architecture of continental scope designed to coordinate actions for the defense and promotion of life, liberty, sovereignty, security, and the economic prosperity of our peoples.

WHEREAS,

The globalist powers have articulated the progressive left of the entire continent in order to destroy the foundational values of Western culture and thus weaken the power of nations, directly attacking the self-determination of peoples and their sovereignty;

Exhibiting great tactical skill when promoting public policies, they have managed to consolidate themselves in the region and impose authoritarian regimes. They maintain an approach to politics that seeks to silence dissident voices, often using the concentration of the media and promoting political censorship, which in numerous cases has resulted in violations of the most basic human rights;

This type of practice has undermined the foundations of the republican system of separation of powers in order to co-opt it through strategic litigation, infringing fundamental rights, and in this way persecuting those who do not profess what is politically correct within the globalist and progressive order, as an effective means to intimidate enemies and guarantee impunity to their own;

In the economic field, structural fiscal deficit policies have been promoted at the expense of the productive sector; not only of those who own the means of production but also of those who see their salaries plundered by inflation and excessive taxes;

Flying socialist banners, they have made our system a crony capitalist establishment, where capitalists are condemned only if they do not fall into line with the ruling party of the time. The spoliation of the productive system, of formal private employment, and of the purchasing power of workers' wages have led us to a permanent crisis that makes us poorer every day. In parallel, an apparatus has been set up that transforms this poverty into political revenue. Subsidies and welfare that should be temporary aid mechanisms have become tools of the cruelest political demagoguery;

The lack of security makes it difficult to maintain social peace and jeopardizes the basic rights of all human beings. Life and property, as inherent rights of each person, are constantly undermined by situations of violence. Policies that seek to reject penalties while refusing to reprimand crimes have done nothing but condemn all law-abiding citizens to a state of exception;

Structural corruption at all levels of the State has become common currency, plunging political leadership into the greatest discredit. Left-wing leaders condemn great fortunes as long as they are not their own. The scandalous self-enrichment of officials at the expense of taxes and their luxurious lifestyle only demonstrate their immorality and hypocrisy.

Even now, in the 21st century, the continent still suffers from specific situations of political violence and armed struggle. Such is the case of the dictatorships of Cuba, Venezuela, Nicaragua, or of many narco-democracies such as that of Bolivia, for example. These, far from being condemned by the aforementioned powers, are endorsed and protected. Simultaneously, we experience new forms of political violence promoted by the social democracy in force in many countries, such as systematic misinformation, forced sales, tax persecution, the imposition of a single gender thought.

Therefore, WE DECLARE:

FIRST, that we work for a UNITED AMERICA, understanding that this is an elemental condition to consolidate the sovereignty of our peoples. In this unity, the main foundation of social cohesion is political harmony and respect for differences. We encourage dialogue and interchange in a culture that seeks the Common Good. We express our condemnation of all forms of political action that resort to violence and that violate the democratic and republican system.

SECOND, that we defend a FREE AMERICA, because freedom is an inherent natural right of every human being. This means unwaveringly defending the foundation of freedom, which is none other than the sacred right to life in all its stages and manifestations. With this, we also uphold the right to property, freedom of expression, freedom of assembly, freedom of religion, freedom of association, among others, as presuppositions of a civilized society.

THIRD, that we advocate for a SAFE AMERICA, where peace and order are indispensable requirements for a dignified life. That is why we commit ourselves to fight against drug trafficking, terrorism, and all types of transnational organized crime that subjugate our brothers.

FOURTH, that we fight for a PROSPEROUS AMERICA, condemning the methods of economic impoverishment such as suffocating taxpayers with taxes, fiscal deficit, uncontrolled money issuance, and the indiscriminate increase of public debt. We promote a productive policy ensuring the dignity of work, the utilization and care of our natural resources, and the development of our economic potential. We seek transversal economic development for our society. We promote a just society where there are opportunities for all.

FOR A FREE, SAFE, AND PROSPEROUS AMERICA.
